

So you want to Offsite?

Plan, plan, and plan some more. And not just the fancy location or the games or the lunch menu. Plan your agenda—how are you going to use this time to get real deep work done that will make a lasting impact on your company?

And team-building is great, but don't forget to think about WHO your staff are and what makes them comfortable. Best way to start is to ask!

